_____)

This is a civil rights action brought by a state prisoner pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983. Under the Prison Litigation Reform Act, PUB. L. NO. 104-134, 110 STAT. 1321 (1996) (“PLRA”), “no action shall be brought with respect to prison conditions . . . until such administrative remedies as are available are exhausted.” 42 U.S.C. § 1997e(a). Because Plaintiff has failed to demonstrate exhaustion of available administrative remedies, the Court will dismiss his complaint without prejudice.

Discussion

I. Factual Allegations

Plaintiff¹ is presently incarcerated at the Chippewa Correctional Facility (URF). In his pro se complaint, he sues Defendants Warden Jerri Ann Sherry, Resident Unit Officer Bennett, ¹Plaintiff Belcher also lists two other inmates as plaintiffs in this action. However, Plaintiff Belcher is the only party who signed the complaint. The federal courts uniformly reject representation during litigation by unlicensed lay people. See e.g. Herrera-Venegas v. Sanchez-Rivera, 681 F.2d 41 (1st Cir. 1982) (prisoners); Cheung v. Youth Orchestra Foundation of Buffalo, Inc., 906 F.2d 59 (2d Cir. 1990) (parent/child); Bonacci v. Kindt, 868 F.2d 1442 (5th Cir. 1989). See also United States v. Whitesel, 543 F.2d 1176 (6th Cir. 1976), cert. denied 431 U.S. 967 (1977) (rule applied in criminal matter). A person may appear in the federal courts only pro se or through legal counsel. 28 U.S.C. § 1654. This Court's local rules prohibit representation by non-lawyers. W.D. Mich. L.R. 18(a). Each plaintiff must sign every pleading filed or the pleading cannot be considered a pleading of the unsigned plaintiff. Therefore, inmates Martin Solomon and James A. Mahan are not parties to this action.

Resident Unit Officer Moore, Resident Unit Officer Warner, Resident Unit Officer Derusha, Resident Unit Officer Eberts, Resident Unit Officer LaCoursier, Resident Unit Manager Mansfield, Assistant Resident Unit Supervisor Corey, Corrections Officer T. Ross, Grievance Coordinator Jeff Case, Corrections Officer Kinasz, and Nurse Amy.

Plaintiff claims that Defendants have refused to place him in a non-smoking unit despite the fact that he has asthma, which is well documented in his medical record. Plaintiff states that, as a result, he is suffering from frequent asthma attacks. For relief, Plaintiff requests compensatory and punitive damages, as well as injunctive relief.

II. Lack of Exhaustion of Available Administrative Remedies

Plaintiff has failed to sufficiently allege and show exhaustion of available administrative remedies. Pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1997e(a), a prisoner bringing an action with respect to prison conditions under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 must exhaust available administrative remedies. See Porter v. Nussle, 534 U.S. 516 (2002); Booth v. Churner, 532 U.S. 731 (2001). The exhaustion requirement is mandatory and applies to all suits regarding prison conditions, regardless of the nature of the wrong or the type of relief sought. Porter, 534 U.S. at 516; Booth, 532 U.S. at 741. A district court must enforce the exhaustion requirement sua sponte. Brown v. Toombs, 139 F.3d 1102, 1104 (6th Cir.), cert. denied, 525 U.S. 833, 119 S. Ct. 88 (1998); accord Wyatt v. Leonard, 193 F.3d 876, 879 (6th Cir. 1999).

A prisoner must allege and show that he has exhausted all available administrative remedies and should attach to his § 1983 complaint the administrative decision disposing of his complaint, if the decision is available. Brown, 139 F.3d at 1104. In the absence of written documentation, the prisoner must describe with specificity the administrative proceeding and its outcome so that the court may determine what claims, if any, have been exhausted. Knuckles El v. Toombs, 215 F.3d 640, 642 (6th Cir.), cert. denied, 531 U.S. 1040, 121 S. Ct. 634 (2000). A prisoner must specifically mention the involved parties in the grievance to make prison officials aware of the problems so that the prison has a chance to address the claims before they reach federal court. Curry v. Scott, 249 F.3d 493, 505 (6th Cir. 2001).

Plaintiff's claims are the type of claims that may be grieved. See MICH. DEP'T OF CORR., Policy Directive 03.02.130, ¶ E (may grieve "alleged violations of policy and procedure or unsatisfactory conditions of confinement") (effective Nov. 1, 2000). The burden to allege and show exhaustion belongs to Plaintiff. See 42 U.S.C. § 1997e(a); Knuckles El, 215 F.3d at 642; Brown, 139 F.3d at 1104. This requirement is "so that the district court may intelligently decide if the issues raised can be decided on the merits." Knuckles El, 215 F.3d at 642.

Plaintiff states that he filed several grievances on June 30, 2005, July 1, 2005, and July 1, 2005, but that Defendant Case failed to respond or to process Plaintiff's grievances. Plaintiff attaches copies of his step I grievance number URF-05-08-1496-03C, the step II appeal, and the step I response. In the step I grievance, Plaintiff specifically names Defendants Sherry, Bennett, Moore, Warner, Derusha, Eberts, Mansfield, Corey, and Ross. However, Plaintiff fails to attach copies of his step III grievance or the step II and III responses. Nor does Plaintiff appear to have named Defendants LaCoursier, Case, Kinasz or Nurse Amy in any step I grievance. An allegation that remedies have been exhausted is not enough, as a plaintiff must provide the decisions reflecting the administrative disposition of his claims or other evidence showing that he has exhausted his remedies. Williams v. McGinnis, No. 98-1042, 1999 WL 183345, at *1 (6th Cir. March 16, 1999). The Sixth Circuit has found that the district court is not required to hold evidentiary hearings on the issue of exhaustion or “spend a lot of time with each case just trying to find out whether it has jurisdiction to reach the merits.” See Knuckles El, 215 F.3d at 642. Accordingly, the Court finds that Plaintiff has failed to demonstrate exhaustion of available administrative remedies.

It is not clear whether Plaintiff may still grieve his claims. Under the policy of the prison, complaints must be resolved expeditiously, and complaints may be rejected as untimely. See Policy Directive 03.02.130, ¶¶ G-3, T, V. The Sixth Circuit held that an inmate cannot claim that “he has exhausted his remedies or that it is futile for him to do so because his grievance is now time-barred under the regulations.” Hartsfield v. Vidor, 199 F.3d 305, 309 (6th Cir. 1999) (citing Wright v. Morris, 111 F.3d 414, 417 n.3 (6th Cir.), cert. denied, 522 U.S. 906 (1997)).

Because the exhaustion requirement is no longer discretionary, but is mandatory, the Court does not have the discretion to provide a continuance in the absence of exhaustion. See Wright, 111 F.3d at 417. Rather, dismissal of this action without prejudice is appropriate when a prisoner has failed to show that he exhausted available administrative remedies. See Freeman, 196 F.3d at 645; Brown, 139 F.3d at 1104; White v. McGinnis, 131 F.3d 593, 595 (6th Cir. 1997); Bradford v. Moore, No. 97-1909, 1998 WL 476206, at *1 (6th Cir. Aug. 3, 1998). Dismissal for failing to exhaust available administrative remedies does not relieve a plaintiff from payment of the civil action filing fee. Omar v. Lesza, No. 97 C 5817, 1997 WL 534361, at *1 (N.D. Ill. Aug. 26, 1997). Accordingly, the Court will dismiss his action without prejudice.

Conclusion

Having conducted the review now required by the Prison Litigation Reform Act, the Court will dismiss Plaintiff’s action without prejudice because he has failed to show exhaustion as required by 42 U.S.C. § 1997e(a).

The Court must next decide whether an appeal of this action would be in good faith within the meaning of 28 U.S.C. § 1915(a)(3). See McGore v. Wigglesworth, 114 F.3d 601, 611 (6th Cir. 1997). For the same reasons that the Court dismisses the action, the Court discerns no good-faith basis for an appeal. Should Plaintiff appeal this decision, the Court will assess the $255 appellate filing fee pursuant to § 1915(b)(1), see McGore, 114 F.3d at 610-11, unless Plaintiff is barred from proceeding in forma pauperis, e.g., by the “three-strikes” rule of § 1915(g). If he is barred, he will be required to pay the $255 appellate filing fee in one lump sum.

A Judgment consistent with this Opinion will be entered.
